

Filenote – MVV Devonport Agency Initiated Variation V009

(In lieu of a formal decision document)

There isn't a decision document for this administrative agency-initiated variation. This variation was made to correct an error from the previous variation, as explained in the introductory note of the Variation Notice. It should have been added when we did a review of the whole sector, but it was omitted in error. No assessment was required because it deals with a standard limit that is included in all permits of this type now.
